TELEGRAPHIC.

ALTHOUGH A DEMOCRAT AND LAWYER IT WOULD SEEM THAT ATTORNEY GENERAL GARLAND IS JUST A LITTLE DISHONORABLE.

SULLIVAN AND MITCHELL, THE SLUGGARDS, WILL SETTLE THE FISHERY QUESTION—THE LIGHTNING FREIGHT—POOR EDITOR.

Exciting Attention. Fast Freight.

Denver, Col., June 30.—The first new fast freight train from the Pacific Coast arrived at Denver to-day. The train consisted of fifteen cars of vegetables and fruit, all in good condition. The fast time will be of great advantage to both California and this state.

City of Mexico, June 30.—The case of Cutting, the American editor of the Paso del Norte, now in prison at that place, is beginning to attract a great deal of attention, and the American colony is indignant at the course pursued in the case. It is not yet known what course the government will pursue.

The Coming Contest.

Boston, June 30.—It is freely predicted here that Charles Mitchell will defeat Sullivan in the glove fight in New York on July 5th. Mitchell is said to be taking the best care of himself. Sullivan's preparation for the fight consists in drinking from noon until after midnight, and occasionally nibbling hard crackers and salt codfish.

The Report.

Washington, June 30.—These documents in the nature of reports will be presented to the House by the Pan-Electric Telephone committee. As neither will be signed by a majority of the committee, technically speaking, there will be no report before the House for action. The report drawn up by the chairman will be signed by himself and Messrs. Eden and Hall, all Democrats. Rumny has secured the signatures of Messrs. Willard, Hanback and Noffis, all Republicans, to his report. Hall, Democrat, has presented his views in an individual report. The chairman's report will not be made public before to-day. In the report signed by the Republican members the testimony is cited to show how the Pan Electric company was organized and that a half a million of stock was given to gentlemen for the use of their names and reputations. The opinion of Garland, declaring that the Rogers' patents do not infringe on the Bell patent, is quoted with the statement that it had been gotten because the Pan could not sell their rights without it, and it intended to be an inducement which led a large number of persons to pay in money, part of which was divided among Garland and his associates.

At the same time the Pan Electric knew that their instruments were not differing from the Bell patent.

The report that refers to the Postal telephone bill, as explaining the motives of the Pan Electric organizers, states that $2,000,000 of stock was held by members of Congress when it was expected that the bill would be subjected to legislation. It is charged that the Pan Electric people, including Garland, tried to get congressional endorsement for their scheme, and evidence is cited where it touches upon the effort to secure the appointment of young Rogers as electrician. It is alleged that Garland and Harris and General Johnston busied themselves personally to accomplish it. This report then remarks the sale of state rights to subordinate companies and says: "The Bell company sued the sub-companies and the Pan company declined to defend on the ground that it had no money. Thereupon they determined to secure the name of the United States to bring suit against the Bell company to frighten it and drive it to buy peace. So they obtained permission when they wanted it, as they wanted it without any preliminary examination worthy of the name, without the usual investigation and in defiance of all rules and practices of the department and in direct disregard of decisions made within a month by its head. Since all facts developed before the committee have been known at that time," says the report, "the department of justice would have driven the petitions from its doors, for public sentiment would have constrained it to do so." The report in commenting upon the attorney general's share in the transaction, declares that if he had made the inquiries he ought to have made, he could have granted the application within twenty-four hours and without reference. Thus it is alleged he was far from making a careful examination of the subject or even read the petition. Taking all these things together, says the report, it does not admit of doubt that the solicitor general, acting as attorney-general, was by some means led to grant his application without the usual reference or inquiry, without any pretense of competent examination, with unexampled speed and in violation of the practice of the department. In an ordinary case, such action would be held to be positive proof of fraud, at least proof of great negligence, which in a person of his position is equivalent to fraud. Upon these facts, none of which can be disputed, no jury would hesitate. It is enough, however, to say that it cannot be tolerated—that the business of the government can't be so conducted. It cannot escape observation that the senator had risen, and Casey Young acted as men would act if already assured of what was being accomplished, and that the conduct of the solicitor general is most noted for the assumption that he understood the matter in advance and had predetermined upon his course of action. The report then recurs to the subject of the opinion furnished by the attorney-general. It charges that it was written with a view to deceive the people of the southwest, and says that it was a sham view, that people so believed, but he (the attorney-general) did not. The report goes on: The best that can be said of him is that he lent himself to the scheme because he got his stock.

He said nothing as regards to what his associates asked him, nor to return the stock and cease to be an associate. He had not the boldness to do so personally. Such a thing never was done before. The plea is that the parties concerned did not think that they were doing wrong, but the government which expects to be respected cannot permit such things to be done, or such personal interests to exist.

General and Territorial.

The Albuquerque papers are making a big fight against Justice Heacock, who was lately convicted of embezzlement but persists in performing the duties of his office, and the chances are that he will have to go.

Col. J. F. Dodds is an old time friend of Governor Ross, and assisted in his election to the U. S. Senate. The Col. once says that he approved of Ross' action in the impeachment case at the time, and has never changed his mind.

The people of Albuquerque woke up at the last minute, and they are now busily engaged in preparing for the proper observance of the Fourth.

Arthur Ross, a son of the governor, and Miss Mable L. Griswold, of Alameda Cal., were married on the 24th of last month.

The Santa Fe post-office is being improved at an expense of about $2,000.

Ten more companies of troops will soon be stationed in this territory and Arizona, and then Geronimo will be obliged to go—on the war path.

United States District Attorney Smith has been quite seriously ill for several days.

Chas. Zeiger, of Albuquerque, leads the fair subscription with $150. That is the right kind of enterprise.

Acclimated Range-Raised Bulls.

Fifty acclimated range-raised bulls now on sale at Socorro. Having perfected arrangements with noted Colorado breeders, I will keep on sale during the summer, at Socorro, high grade Short-horn, Hereford and Angus cows and two year old bulls, sired by thoroughbred of fashionable strains and out of high grade Colorado cows. As these bulls are not pampered but strictly raised upon the range of the far West, they are in saving one year's time. Close prices. Inspection invited.
H. H. HARRIS,
Socorro, N. M.

The news business of the late G. E. Ward will be carried on at the Grand Central, and all those who have failed to receive their papers since the fire, will please notify Charles Reitz, at the Grand Central, in the city of Socorro, and in his absence, to Charles Reitz, in the same place. All persons indebted to the business and will pay all bills and collect all accounts. HOWARD L. WARD, CHARLES REITZ, Socorro, N. M., April 28, 1886. 152f
